

AOTA Virtual Chat

Occupational Therapy's Role in Injury Prevention and Trauma

May 14, 2012
2:00 PM Eastern Time

Presenters: JoAnn Kennedy, BSOT, OTR/L, clinical doctoral student at Virginia Commonwealth University. In private practice, serving the sensory integration needs of children with a special focus on trauma- and attachment-informed care, Fairfax, VA; Ellen R. Schmidt, MS, OT, Assistant Director, Children's Safety Network (CSN), National Injury and Violence Prevention Resource Center, Education Development Center.

Occupational Therapy's Role in Injury Prevention and Trauma

I attest that I participated in the AOTA Pediatric Virtual Chat entitled "Occupational Therapy's Role in Injury Prevention and Trauma" held on May 14, 2012 at 2 PM Eastern Time.

Signature_____

Date_____

Print Name_____

AOTA Pediatric Virtual Chats are 60 minute discussions, led by an occupational therapist(s) considered an expert on the topic. Participation may be at the time of the live chat or via a recording of the chat.