Introduction

Since the fall of 2014, the American Occupational Therapy Association (AOTA) has released reports surveying the health plans and Summaries of Benefits and Coverage (SBCs) offered in state-based and federally facilitated marketplaces across the country relating to the coverage of rehabilitation and habilitation services.<sup>1 2</sup>The findings of these reports led to the following conclusions: (1) Consumers in many cases do not have access to adequate information about rehabilitation and habilitation benefits in qualified health plans (QHPs) to make informed choices; and (2) Insurance carriers in many cases seem to not be complying with the essential health benefit (EHB) benchmark standards for coverage of rehabilitative and habilitative services.

Our initial report showed that very few plans (fewer than 9% examined) clearly outlined for the consumer information regarding the number of visits covered under the rehabilitation and habilitation benefit; whether the deductible had to be met before the rehabilitation and/or habilitation coverage would take effect; and whether the core therapies<sup>3</sup> were covered. Since that time, the number of plans clearly relating this information has grown to 45%; still less than half.

After our 2014 report was issued, AOTA took these findings to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' (NAIC) workgroup tasked with recommending revisions to the SBC templates, instructions, and uniform glossary in response to the proposed rule on the SBC, which was issued jointly by the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) and the Departments of Labor and the Treasury in December 2014. AOTA also shared these findings with the agencies during the public comment period on the proposed rule.

<sup>3</sup> The therapies listed in the National Association of Insurance Commissioners' definitions, which were created for a consumer glossary of insurance terms, include the following: rehabilitation—physical therapy, occupational therapy, speech-language pathology, and psychiatric rehabilitation; habilitation—physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech-language pathology. For purposes of the 2016 and 2019 analysis, psychiatric rehabilitation was not considered as a core rehabilitation therapy.

A final rule was completed<sup>4</sup> in June 2015. However, the agencies delayed issuing the revised template until they received further input from NAIC.<sup>5</sup> The agencies released a proposed SBC template and a proposed uniform glossary for comment in February 2016, and in April 2016 CMS posted the final SBC template and sample completed SBC, along with instructions for filling out the SBC and an updated uniform glossary of health coverage and medical terms. The revised SBC and related materials present clearer information about rehabilitative and habilitative services. The instructions now require plans to list the core therapies (physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech-language pathology), and any quantitative limits on those therapies, on every SBC for the Rehabilitation and Habilitation rows. The revised SBC has new features that make it clearer when the deductible applies to therapy and other covered services.

AOTA and other health care organizations advocated in favor of many of the changes addressing rehabilitative and habilitative benefits, in particular that:

- Physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy—the therapies listed in the Uniform Glossary definitions of habilitation and rehabilitation services—must always be listed in the Limitations, Exceptions, & Other Important Information column for “Habilitation services” and “Rehabilitation services.”
- Quantitative limits (e.g., number of days, hours, or visits covered) on physical therapy, occupational therapy, and speech therapy must always be specified under Limitations, Exclusions, & Other Important Information.
- Non-coverage of habilitative services must be shown in the Services Your Plan Generally Does Not Cover box as well as in the Common Medical Events chart. They should be considered an “excluded service” and listed under Services Your Plan Generally Does Not Cover if a participant has to pay 100% in-network.
- The template has features that help clarify the applicability of the deductible: the new Important Question, “Are there services covered before you meet your deductible?” and a text bar above the Common Medical Events chart stating that all cost-sharing amounts in the chart are after the deductible has been met.

The SBC is used in all health plans, including small and large group plans, as well as self-funded and fully insured plans and grandfathered plans. Nevertheless, one notable exception to the use of the SBC template are short-term, limited-duration plans. Prior to 2017, state benchmark plans were based on 2012 plans with the benchmark adjusted to include all 10 EHBs. The current SBC template and associated documents went into effect on the first day of the first open enrollment period that began April 1, 2017.<sup>6</sup>

This is the first report reflecting a review of plans since the current SBC went into effect in 2017. Accordingly, as with our report in 2016, we reviewed a broader section of plans for compliance with the standard, specifically all of the Silver plan SBC documentation available for the 2019 plan year in targeted states.<sup>7</sup>

Methodology Overview

As in 2016, we focused our research on a comprehensive review of selected states, including some that were identified in the previous report as having plan SBCs out of compliance with their respective state's benchmark plans. We selected other states from different regions of the country, a mix of larger and smaller states, and states with different types of marketplaces to ensure a diverse sample. Our research focused on reviewing silver-level plans within 24 states and the District of Columbia. The following states, plus the District of Columbia, were chosen for review: Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Hawaii, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, and Wyoming. We identified 677 plans, and 5 data points were selected as the core information sought by the project.<sup>8</sup> SBCs were evaluated to determine whether there was any variation between the different plans offered by each carrier for each of the five core data points. The research was conducted to build upon previous reports, in order to provide an update and identify any statistical significance among the core data points. For a more detailed methodological discussion, please refer to Appendix 1.

Summary

The findings and conclusions that have been made in our research draw an improved but similar landscape to the findings of our previous reports. While informational consistency has improved, consumers still lack critical information regarding rehabilitation benefits, and to a larger degree habilitation benefits, to make informed decisions while shopping for coverage in the marketplaces. In many instances, QHPs are still not clearly complying with the EHB benchmark standards for rehabilitation and habilitation coverage. Unlike in previous reports, the vast majority of plans are no longer combining the rehabilitation and habilitation benefits in their SBCs, as they were prohibited from doing beginning in January of 2017. Nevertheless, some plans are still tying the specific benefit or utilization review to age status.

Key Findings

- SBCs still lack critical information regarding rehabilitation and habilitation services for consumers to make informed decisions (see Figure 1).

One of the key findings in previous reports was that inadequate information is available in the Summary of Benefits and Coverage document about rehabilitation and habilitation services for consumers to make informed choices about which plan to select. While the most recent research leads to the same conclusion, clarity regarding the applicability of the deductible for rehabilitation and habilitation has continued to improve. Of the 677 plans reviewed, only ~45% contained all the characteristics consumers need to make informed decisions about their coverage. (See Figure 1 below). The vast majority of SBCs (~95%) included clear language regarding whether or not a beneficiary would need to meet their deductible before rehabilitation or habilitation coverage would take effect (Figure 2). However, fewer than half of plans (~48%) listed the core therapies identified in the NAIC's definitions of rehabilitation and habilitation as being covered. This percentage increases to ~57% (Figure 3) if only considering the rehabilitation benefit. ~68% of plans made the visit limit clear for both rehabilitation and habilitation. This percentage is increased to ~70% (Figure 4) if only considering the visit limits for the rehabilitation benefit alone.

There has been improvement from the original report, in particular in the disclosure of deductibles and in the provision of information relating to habilitation benefits. Still, the majority of SBCs are unclear when it comes to enabling consumers to clearly evaluate, understand, and compare covered services.

- Understanding the applicability of the deductible for rehabilitation and habilitation services has improved; however, meeting the standard of clarity varies among benefits (see Figure 2).

Clarity as to whether a deductible must be met for rehabilitation or habilitation coverage is the biggest improvement from the original report. A majority of QHPs (~75%) make it clear that the deductible must be met. For consumers, the applicability of the deductible for a QHP poses many financial concerns. Figure 2 illustrates that for consumers who expect or need rehabilitation and/or habilitation services, the overwhelming majority of plans require that the deductible must be met.

Few QHPs were unclear (≈3%) in regard to clearly stating whether a deductible probably needed to be met or probably did not apply. Even fewer plans (≈less than 1%) made a distinction of applying the deductible to one benefit or the other (i.e., it was clear that the deductible must be met for rehabilitation but unclear for habilitation, and vice versa). Additionally, within this category were plans that tied the deductible to specific therapies, settings, and/or providers. Unfortunately, more plans reviewed (≈5%) made this information totally obscure (unclear or outlier) for the consumer. Taking into consideration that the average deductible in a silver-level plan is $2,559, consumers have to weigh the financial implications to determine whether certain benefits are affordable.<sup>9</sup>

➤ Basic information about rehabilitation and habilitation benefits is often absent or unclear (see Figures 3 and 4).

While progress has been made clarifying the applicability of the deductible, the QHPs are still deficient in providing the necessary information for consumers to determine what therapies are in fact covered and what, if any, visit limits are bound to the benefit. Clearly understanding what services are available while choosing a plan is critical, especially for those who rely on services to remain mobile, functional, and independent. Fewer than 60% of plans reviewed clearly listed the therapies covered under their rehabilitation benefit. Even more disconcerting was that only 50% of plans reviewed listed their therapies under their habilitation benefit (see Figure 3 below).

QHPs were overall worse in presenting information regarding quantitative limits (e.g., number of days, hours, visits) (see Figure 4 below). Additionally, there remains a disparity in clarity regarding the limits for rehabilitation and habilitation. Quantitative limits were 8% more likely to be presented for rehabilitation than for habilitation. Since the January 2017 prohibition on combined limits on both rehabilitation and rehabilitative services<sup>10</sup>, very few plans (fewer than 1%) appear to potentially impose a combined benefit.

Similarly, fewer than 1% of the QHPs' SBC still include a description of coverage of habilitative services that contain references to age limits and/or health status. Compared with the 2014 report, where approximately 14% of QHPs reviewed contained these references, this is a marked improvement.

One of the key findings in the 2014 report stated that some QHPs' rehabilitative and/or habilitative services were not likely meeting the standards established by the respective state's benchmark plan. While this survey did not address whether plans delivered benefits that were not to the standard of the state's benchmark plan, the survey did identify examples of SBC documentation that was not consistent with the existing benchmark, or that did not provide information sufficient to determine compliance with the standard. The data collected in this current sample indicated that this point likely still holds true, since there are still a significant number of plans not explicitly listing quantitative limits. However, of those QHPs reviewed that listed visit limits, very few did not match the respective state's benchmark plan.

- QHPs coverage of rehabilitation and/or habilitation services is still not meeting the standards established by the state's benchmark plan.

Example 1: Florida

Florida's EHB benchmark plan sets a limit of 35 outpatient rehabilitation visits per year or benefit period.<sup>11</sup> Habilitation services are covered, but there is no quantitative limit specified. This is a change from 2016, when habilitation services were not covered.

Florida Benchmark Requirements

Rehabilitation	Habilitation
35 visits per year/benefit period	No quantitative limit

Florida QHP 1<sup>12</sup>

While most of Florida's QHPs meet the benchmark standards regarding visits, others do not. Habilitation services that do not have a quantifiable limit in the state benchmark sometimes have specified limits for coverage in 2019 plans. For example, the following plan places a 35-visit limit on both rehabilitation and habilitation services.

Services You May Need	Your Cost if You Use a Participating Provider	Your Cost if You Use a Non-Participating Provider	Limitations & Exceptions
Rehabilitation services	10% coinsurance after deductible	Not covered	35 visits per year, per condition
Habilitation services	10% coinsurance after deductible	Not covered	35 visits per year, per condition

Florida QHP 2<sup>13</sup>

In comparison, QHP 2 is in line with the benchmarks regarding visits, but the core therapies are not listed. Neither plan would cover enrollees for services by an out-of-network provider.

Services You May Need	Your Cost if You Use an In-Network Provider	Your Cost if You Use a Non-Network Provider	Limitations & Exceptions
Rehabilitation services	Physician Office: $65 Copay per Visit/ Outpatient Rehab Center: Deductible + 20% Coinsurance	Not covered	Coverage limited to 35 visits, including 35 manipulations. Services performed in hospital may have higher cost-share. Prior Authorization may be required. Your benefits/services may be denied.

Example 2: New York

The New York State benchmark plan establishes a 60-visit limit on rehabilitation and habilitation services.<sup>14</sup> The benchmark plan clarifies that speech and physical therapy are only covered following a hospital stay or a surgical procedure. For habilitation services, the benchmark plan specifies coverage for “Services consisting of physical therapy, speech therapy, and occupational therapy, in the outpatient department of a Facility or in a Health Care Professional’s office.”<sup>15</sup>

New York Benchmark Requirements

Rehabilitation	Habilitation
60 visits per condition per combined	60 visits per condition per lifetime combined

New York QHP 1<sup>16</sup>

A noticeable change from the 2016 plans is that an overwhelming majority of New York plans now meet the state benchmark and specify a limit. In 2016, many plans did not specify limits. The following 2016 example sets no limitations for visits for either rehabilitation or habilitation services, nor are core therapies listed out. It is implied, however, that these services would be covered. A common issue in 2016 was that many of these plans would not cover services provided by an out-of-network provider.

New York QHP 2<sup>17</sup>

In contrast, many QHPs in New York meet the state benchmark limits with specified limits for both rehabilitation and habilitation. Below is a typical plan in New York. Unchanged from 2016, many plans have no coverage for out-of-network providers.

Services You May Need	Your Cost if You Use an In-Network Provider	Your Cost if You Use a Non-Network Provider	Limitations & Exceptions
Rehabilitation services	$30 copay/visit subject to deductible	Not covered	60 visits per condition, per year, combined therapies. Preauthorization is required. If you don't get preauthorization, payment for care may be denied.
Habilitation services	$30 copay/visit subject to deductible	Not covered	60 visits per condition, per year, combined therapies. Preauthorization is required. If you don't get preauthorization, payment for care may be denied.

New York QHP 3<sup>18</sup>

The following is an example of a plan that falls short of the New York State benchmark plan. Rehabilitation and habilitation services appear to be combined in the SBC. Once again, out-of-network services are not covered.

Example 3: Maryland

Maryland's EHB benchmark plan sets a limit of 30 outpatient rehabilitation visits each per injury or illness per benefit period for occupational therapy, physical therapy, and speech therapy.<sup>19</sup> Habilitation services are covered and have the same limits as rehabilitative visits.

Maryland's Benchmark Requirements

Maryland QHP 1<sup>20</sup>

All of the collected QHPs in Maryland meet the benchmark standards regarding visits, with the exception of one provider that is unclear on what services are covered.

Services You May Need	Your Cost if You Use a Participating Provider	Your Cost if You Use a Non-Participating Provider	Limitations & Exceptions
Rehabilitation services	Provider: Deductible, then $40 copay per visit Hospital Facility: Deductible, then $100 copay per visit	Provider & Hospital Facility: Not Covered	If a service is rendered at a Hospital Facility, prior authorization is required, and the additional Facility charge may apply; 30 visits/therapy type/condition/benefit period

Maryland QHP 2<sup>21</sup>

By comparison, QHP 2 is not clear regarding the limits of the services provided given that it applies a copay arrangement. Neither plan would cover enrollees for services by an out-of-network provider.

Example 4: Massachusetts

Massachusetts' EHB benchmark plan sets a limit of a combined 60 outpatient rehabilitation visits for occupational therapy and physical therapy.<sup>22</sup> Habilitation services are covered but do not have any quantitative limits.

Most of the collected QHPs in Massachusetts meet the benchmark standards regarding visits.

Conclusion

Overall, since 2014, QHPs have exhibited progress in ensuring that consumers can easily understand and evaluate their rehabilitation and habilitation coverage while shopping for plans in the marketplace. This progress has extended to insurance carriers holding the same standards of clarity and coverage for the habilitation benefit as they do for the rehabilitation benefit.

Nevertheless, there are still substantial shortfalls, and oversight and enforcement of finalized regulations need to be enhanced for consumers to better evaluate and make fully informed decisions regarding their health care coverage. As plans look to make changes to their SBC documentation in advance of the new standards for the 2021 plan year,<sup>25</sup> it would be beneficial to see additional guidance in advance of those changes.

AOTA believes that changes that clarify the application of limits on rehabilitative and habilitative treatment are vital. The instructions for “If you need help recovering” directions should be revised to state unambiguously that PT/OT/ST must always be listed in the Limitations & Exceptions column, along with information on quantitative limits (or lack thereof). Furthermore, instructions and sample completed SBCs should not combine the Rehabilitation and Habilitation rows into a single section under the Limitations & Exceptions column, but instead show separate rows.

Appendix 1: Detailed Methodology

Overview

For a summary of the research methodology, please see the overview at the beginning of the report (page 3). The data collected for the 2014 report was done in two stages and reflective of silver level plans in all 50 states and the District of Columbia. The 2014 report identified 270 carriers in the 50 states and the District of Columbia. As in 2016, we opted in 2019 to conduct a comprehensive review of 24 states and the District of Columbia. As previously discussed, we focused our research on a more comprehensive review of selected states, including some that were identified in the previous report as having plan SBCs out of compliance with their benchmark plans. We selected other states from different regions of the country, a mix of larger and smaller states, and states with different types of marketplaces to ensure a diverse sample. The following states, plus the District of Columbia, were therefore chosen for review: Arkansas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Hawaii, Idaho, Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, and Wyoming. In the 2019 set of jurisdictions we identified 677 plans (down from 724 in 2016) and the following core data points: (1) therapies covered for rehabilitation, (2) therapies covered for habilitation, (3) visit limits for rehabilitation, (4) visit limits for habilitation, and (5) whether the deductible had to be met before the benefit began. Additional information was also collected regarding cost sharing and plan design.

How were SBCs acquired?

The SBCs were acquired in one of three places, and in the following order:

1. The federal database housed at the following link:
<https://data.healthcare.gov/download/m2uk-wyvh/application%2Fvnd.openxmlformats-officedocument.spreadsheetml.sheet>
2. Through state-run marketplace websites
3. From insurance carriers' websites

Where is the data underlying the report's findings kept?

AOTA has entered the data into a spreadsheet. A set of that data is available in Appendix 2.

What do the abbreviations in the summary chart refer to, and what other conventions may require interpretation?

There is an abbreviations key in Appendix 4. However, a number of other conventions for how the data was entered must be known to understand it, including the following:

1. If slashes are used between the abbreviations for the therapies (e.g., OT/PT/ST), then any numerical limit associated with those therapies (e.g., an annual visit limit represented by the number 30) applies to all of those therapies combined. Therefore, if a plan beneficiary were to visit an occupational therapist three times, a physical therapist five times, and a speech therapist 10 times, and the plan covers 30 OT/PT/ST, then the beneficiary has only 12 visits left for all those therapies. In other words, using three OT visits does not mean the beneficiary has 27 visits for OT left, because the visit limit applies to all the therapies together and 15 visits were used to access the other therapies.
2. In contrast to the example above, if commas are used to separate the abbreviations for the therapies (e.g., OT, PT, ST), then any numerical limit associated with those therapies (e.g., 30 annual visits) applies to each of those therapies. Therefore, 90 total therapy visits are covered of 30 OT, 30 PT, and 30 ST when the benefits are represented in this way.
3. In most cases, the data collected refer to outpatient services. Unless otherwise indicated, that should be assumed.
4. Numerical limits can be assumed to represent “visits” unless otherwise described (e.g., by “hours” or “days”).
5. Semicolons are sometimes used to separate data representative of significantly different things such as outpatient versus inpatient (abbreviations should help clarify such separations).
6. “Combined with rehab,” or something similar, will frequently appear in the habilitation column. That is intended to describe the fact that a visit limit is shared for rehabilitative and habilitative services. In other words, if rehabilitation coverage consists of 30 OT/PT/ST and habilitation coverage is combined with rehabilitation coverage, then a beneficiary has reduced his or her rehabilitation coverage limit by one visit when he or she accesses habilitative services for one visit. This data point is likely to be error prone, because there are instances when it’s open to interpretation.
7. Question marks sometimes appear after various data entries to indicate there was some level of uncertainty about that entry.
8. “Yes” and “no” appear in the deductible column to indicate that “yes,” the deductible must be met before the rehabilitation and habilitation coverage takes effect, or “no” the deductible does not apply. Often, a question mark accompanies the “yes” or “no” to indicate some level of uncertainty (and generally, unless it was completely clear, it was treated as uncertain). It should be noted that looking at any particular plan may lead one to believe there is no uncertainty about the applicability of the deductible, but based on significant variation encountered when looking at the data in aggregate, it was determined that such assumptions may not be as reliable as they seem in isolation. A slash appearing in the deductible column means there are differences for in-network and out-of-network coverage (unless otherwise specified).
